DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1, claim(s) 1-444, 9, 19-22 and 26-39, drawn to substrates coated with Diamond-Like Carbon coating.

Group 2, claim(s) 5-8 and 10, drawn to methods of growing cells on substrates coated with Diamond-Like Carbon coating.

Group 3, claim(s) 23, drawn to methods of implanting neural cells which have been cultured on substrates coated with Diamond-Like Carbon coating.

Group 4, claim(s) 11-14, drawn to an apparatus for detection of neural cell signals.

Group 5, claim(s) 15-18, 24 and 25, drawn to a three-dimensional growth medium which supports growth and replication of neural cells.

The inventions listed as Groups 1-5 do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Claim 29, at least, is anticipated by Lu et al (Biomedical Materials and Engineering, 1993, cited on IDS of 12/11/2006). Lu et al disclose tissue culture dishes coated with diamond-like carbon films. The tissue culture dishes necessarily have an inside and outside surface, wherein the inside surface is in contact with the cells (See Lu et al, Pg. 224, "Diamond-like Carbon Film Deposition"). ML-1 cells were cultured on the diamond-like carbon-coated dishes and were reported to successfully grow thereupon (See Lu et al, Pg. 224-5, "Results"); therefore the DLC-coated dishes is suitable for supporting attachment and growth of cells.

Consequently, the special technical feature which links Groups 1-3, a substrate coated with Diamond-Like Carbon, fails to provide a contribution over the prior art, and thus unity of invention is lacking. Groups 4 and 5 lack this feature entirely, and thus there is no unity of invention between Groups 4 and 5 and any of the other groups a priori.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
